

This Haiku Is About You

you were on my mind your strong presence stirred my muse can you find yourself?

you are not named here but this verse would not exist if no you in me have I asked too soon?

years hence this seed may burst forth you'll shout, "there I am!"

of course, you'll wonder where you're hidden midst these words I would love to chat

if not for Covid
we might explore together I'll wait, patiently
