

Falling

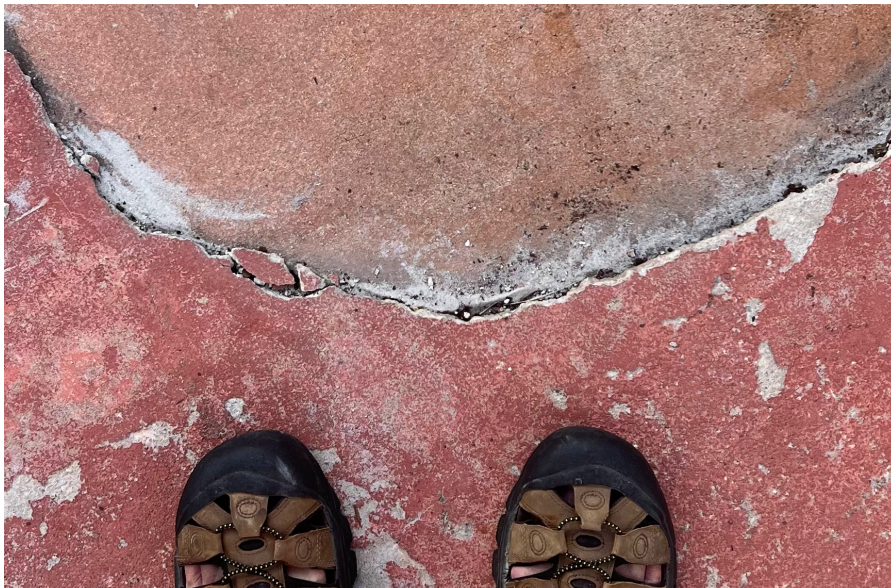

at my last check-up,
my pee-doc's question caught me,
"have you fallen yet?"

what a strange question!
a urologic concern?
"nope," my glib reply

next day, I stumbled
on a sidewalk's hairline crack, nearly crashed and burned

friends glumly concur
that it's a routine question for our age cohort

stay alert, old pals
a new predator's afoot,
so keep looking down
