

Just You and Me

For nine months before you were born,
February 17, 1977,
When I shared you with the world,
It was just you and me.

Now you are gone, except in my heart.
Again, it's just you and me.

No one knew you like I did.
No one loved you like I did.
I love you still, and ever will.
You remain inside me, a hole in my heart.
