

Mother's Day 2019

This Mother's Day, I celebrate the awesome, understated power of maternal love. If you have a mother, thank her for what she has selflessly done for you. Thank her again tomorrow. She will be gone one day. Look inward to your fine qualities that you may believe are your own doing, but in reality she gave to you, by her genes or by her example. Yes, it takes a village to raise a child. But first, it takes a mother.

My mom in 1919.
