

I Stand with Democracy

in these riven times,
when filial bonds are strained
and sometimes broken,

when Founders' genius
lies crushed beneath vile jackboots
of greedy leaders,

when men find their worth measured by their violence,
not their compassion,

when bond to homeland
is frayed by cruelty toward those who would join us,

while I'm still standing,
I stand with democracy,
I stand with people

7 October 2026

dandana.us/poems